THEME: INCLUSION/ EXCLUSION

Who is in and who is out?

Inclusion and exclusion have been recognized by numerous theorists to be the primary questions that any political community must answer about itself. Starting from the demands of traditionally marginalized or excluded groups for social recognition to the blatant assertion of identity, inclusion/exclusion has remained a concern of substantive importance. While addressing the anxieties associated with several aspects of socio-economic exclusion, one may also need to look for the cure for such social ills. The discussion about the practice of exclusion has to be situated within the purview of the politics of inclusion. This will evoke not only the plight of the 'left out' but also their agency in denouncing deeply-rooted exclusionary institutions. It has been a subject of importance across disciplines, highlighting the prevalent inequality within society.
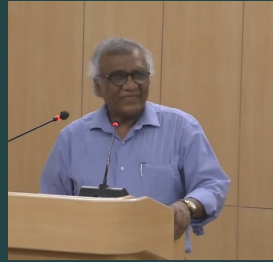

In this event, we aim to lay emphasis on the socio-politco-cultural, economic, historical, literary, and psychological perspectives to understand the dynamics of inclusion and exclusion in India. We invite research scholars to present their work and engage in discussion in line with the following sub-themes:
· Marketing & Consumptions
· Financial Inclusion
· Boarderlines: Spatio-temporal Identities
· Politics of Translation
· Borderland & Citizenship
· Linguistic Marginalization
· Censorship
· Digital Divide
· Urban Space
· Identity Politics
· Gender Spectrum
· Access to social/human capital & employment
· Mental Health: Issues and policies
· Performing & Visual Arts: Classical & Folk

This event aims to build a network among leading researchers and scholars in India. It welcomes both theoretical and empirical papers from various branches of humanities and social sciences.
